

How to move my TD Ameritrade accounts to Tiger Brokers?

If you are not an Accredited Investor, you will need to close your TD Ameritrade Singapore account in the coming months. Here's a guide on how to set up your Tiger Brokers account and move your assets from TD Ameritrade to Tiger Brokers.

1. For users who don't have a Tiger Brokers account yet:

Please click the referral link, register and apply for a trading account.

For Singapore residents, we recommend using SingPass for a quicker registration process. Alternatively, you may choose to fill up the application manually. Our back office system typically requires a few minutes to process the application.

Once your account has been opened successfully, you will receive an SMS notification.

2. For users who already have a Tiger Brokers account:

2.1 For users whose TD account contains cash only:

Please request for a cash withdrawal from TD to your bank account, and then deposit the cash into your Tiger Brokers account.

Tiger Brokers supports:

- Instant deposits of SGD via local transfer methods (e.g. DDA, FAST, PAYNOW, etc.)
- USD deposits via SWIFT (also known as wire transfer)

Tiger Brokers does not charge any fees on cash deposits.

2.2 For users whose TD account contains both securities and cash:

The transfer of securities from TD will require several business days to complete.

- For day traders:
 - We strongly recommend that you close your positions and withdraw the cash from your TD account.
- If you are holding some securities for the long term:
 - STEP1: Submit a position transfer request
Help center article:
https://www.tigerbrokers.com.sg/help/detail/42348848?_sasdk=fMzUzNjI5OTI0ODkzMTU3MA
Please contact Tiger's customer services.
 - STEP2: Submit a cash withdrawal request at TD Ameritrade, but only after your positions have been transferred out.